

Quick One In “The Fox & Tice”?

Laurence Fox and Richard Tice begin search for Central London pub as part of their commitment to “Get London Moving Again”

No Vaccine Passports... No Masks... Always Open...

APRIL 2021, LONDON — London Mayoral Candidate, Laurence Fox and Leader of Reform UK, Richard Tice have today begun a search to buy a pub in Central London.

The pub, dubbed “The Fox and Tice”, will operate on a policy of “no vaccine passports, no masks and always open.”

Former Brexit Party and Reform UK Leader, Nigel Farage has agreed to pour the first drink on The Fox and Tice’s opening day.

The news comes as Fox and Tice announced a major electoral pact ahead of the upcoming May elections, which will see Fox’s Reclaim Party endorse all of Reform UK’s London Assembly Candidates, with Tice putting his weight behind the former actor’s mayoral bid.

Laurence Fox said: “I’m hugely excited about playing our part in the reopening of the hospitality industry. Punters and landlords alike have been forgotten, overlooked and neglected since March last year. Richard and I cannot wait to open an establishment that will pride itself on not asking for vaccine passports, not demand mask-wearing and continue to serve its customers without any restrictions.”

Richard Tice said: “We have seen draconian lockdown restrictions decimate the hospitality trade. When Laurence and I discussed the best way to show our commitment to get London moving again, we wanted to put our money where our mouth is and thought that a vaccine passport and mask-free pub would be a fantastic way to demonstrate our commitment to get the capital moving again.”
